

Comedian Dan St. Paul

Appearing at Placer SPCA's 2010
Funny Bones

Comedy Show & Awards Night

April 30, 2010

After a seven-year stint of headlining San Francisco clubs in the comedy duo Murphy-St. Paul, Dan launched out on his own with a solo act that was to land him in the finals of the nation's toughest comedy competition, The San Francisco International Stand-Up Comedy Competition.

Soon after, Dan moved to Los Angeles and appeared on several episodes of "An Evening at the Improv", plus numerous shows on VH-1, MTV, and Comedy Central.

Since then, he has opened for such superstars as Jerry Seinfeld, Natalie Cole, Dwight Yoakum, Smokey Robinson, and Vince Gill. In a testament to the class of his act, Dan even opened for the San Francisco Symphony. ("These guys are great! I knew them back when they were just a garage band.")

He appeared in the movie "Flubber" with Robin Williams, and signed a recording deal with MCA records. His CD "Natural and Good for You" contains one the most requested comedy pieces on radio, "The First Baseball Game". He also is the star of his own one-man play, "Outer Mission, Middle Class - The Comic Diary of an Immigrant's Son".

The majority of Dan's material comes from being a suburban husband and father and dealing with the frustrations of everyday life. "My comedy comes from the viewpoint of a middle class suburban husband and father. Corporate audiences relate all too well to my material on marriage, children, shopping at the Price Club, dealing with telephone solicitors, etc. If they don't I can only assume they lead very odd lives."
